A gay rights organisation opposed to paedophilia was deplatformed by PayPal, only to discover on Thursday that pro-paedophile organisation Prostasia continues to be on good business terms with the financial technology company. The Daily Wire has the story.

Gays Against Groomers, an organisation comprised entirely of gay, lesbian, bisexual, and even transgender people, launched in 2022 and has had meteoric success at attracting followers to their cause exposing the harms done to children by some radicals hiding behind the LGBTQ banner. Gays Against Groomers wrote early on Tuesday that PayPal and [subsidiary] Venmo had dropped them for “violating” their user agreement.

JUST IN: While we’re not allowed to conduct business on PayPal, guess who is... an organization that offers a support group for “MAPs” @PayPal banned us for being against pedophilia, but allow actual pedophile groups to use their services unabated. “The fact that an organisation comprised solely of gay people, with trans contributors as well, is being banned from the largest payment processors in the country for opposing the sexualisation and mutilation of children is shocking, to say the least,” Jaimee Michell, the Gays Against Groomers founder, told the Daily Wire.

“On top of that, we discovered tonight that while we have been banned, an organisation that literally runs a support group for paedophiles is able to use PayPal’s services. It tells you all you need to know about the state of our society right now,” Michell added.

The gay rights advocacy group is the latest to be targeted by PayPal for challenging dominant leftist narratives surrounding sex and gender. Evolutionary biologist Colin Wright, writer Ian Miles Cheong, and recently the Free Speech Union and the Daily Sceptic, run by conservative editor Toby Young, have all had their accounts permanently closed by PayPal without notice.

Ironically, PayPal sported a banner that said “Open For All” on Twitter during Pride month in June, which their U.K. account still displays. While critics of leftist ideology are denied the ability to conduct commerce, PayPal remains open for business with the openly pedophilic advocacy group Prostasia. Prostasia accepts donations through their website by credit card, check, Bitcoin and other cryptocurrencies, as well as PayPal and Venmo.

Of particular concern is a forum hosted by Prostasia called the MAP Support Club \(MSC\), which is described as a “chat-based peer-support network for teenagers and adults who self-identify as being attracted to younger minors.” MAP Support Club invites “minor attracted people” aged 13 years old and up to participate in online chats about “minor attraction”.

“It is intended as a community where MAPs can connect with one another, offer and receive support in difficult times, and overall just enjoy a relaxed atmosphere where one can have fun and not be judged,” reads the MAP Support Club website.

Gays Against Groomers has said that Google has also disabled its account, which included the use of its Gmail email address, for “violating” its policies.

Websites such as Reddit have recently banned the word ‘groomer’, claiming that it is an anti-LGBT slur.

The Daily Wire notes that PayPal has upped its banning activity since it partnered with the far-Left, woke Anti-Defamation League (ADL) in 2021 to “fight extremism and protect marginalised communities.” According to the press release, the ADL said the collaboration “launched a research effort to address the urgent need to understand how extremist and hate movements throughout the U.S. are attempting to leverage financial platforms to fund criminal activity.”
