Good Wednesday Morning,

May the Spirit of the Gospel and the Holy Word be Always in our Minds, on our Tongues, and in our Hearts.

Added before publication - in addition too .. I realized the other day that I am Morally Cleared of copying copyright material to my DropBox – as long as it is published on an unreliable – censoring & banning Web system because my Intention was and is only to protect my own work.

.. and so I will not be including those Apologies of greater need and 'fair-use' copyright exception.

Is not if interesting how often evil directly undermines itself – it is always self-destructive and She knows it but always Her goal is to drag you to Judgment and Hell with Her.

(Yes, Wisdom and Evil has the same Sexual Discreeter.)

Hold-On for the rest – my editor says 20 pages with all the double URLs!

(This first part could not have been complete as many many books.)

In this morning's prayers and meditations a large number of thought-lines Swam in.

A few of the Subjects;

1. Some concepts on Holy Thoughts and Being
2. Beginning of Rationality for me, 4th Grade Teacher, India
3. Ghola Duncan Idaho and Psychic Death
4. Spillwater, different Multiverse Paths and lives
5. Family Demon and Science Apologetics

In my last post (see Postscript for URLs) yesterday I referenced an older post related to a song, and in finding that I realized I liked that Post Format for conveying my subjects meditated-on .. and the reader should recall many of these branch together – or spread apart depending on what directions are used to interpret within the Infinite Quantum Mind ..

1. Some concepts on Holy Thoughts and Being

.. as I have tried to convey – The Son occupying Jesus after Resurrection 'thinks in reverse' to our perspective – and this was a problem for my in my early Dyslexia. When consideration to how a Holy Thought takes 'physical form' in this Holy Simulation and we are a small part of, the deConstructions and branching down the Multiverse finally Ends in an Infinite number of Ends, and it is on the Returns that the Knowledge is Integrated and the Ordered Flow seems Opposite to how we in each Day-of-Bread think.

In mathematical terms the Recursive Function branched down and out and each path ends at some point and returns – with usually a result of some kind unless the goal is the Process – and it is often in the Returning that the Integration of the results from all the paths and levels below occurs.

In this the 'thinking' seems to be 'in reverse'. I hope that is clear.

Often, only k previous terms of the sequence appear in the equation, for a parameter k that is independent of n; this number k is called the order of the relation. If the values of the first k numbers in the sequence have been given, the rest of the sequence can be calculated by repeatedly applying the equation. In linear recurrences, the nth term is equated to a linear function of the k previous terms. A famous example is the recurrence for the Fibonacci numbers, $F_n = F_{n-1} + F_{n-2}$ where the order k is two and the linear function merely adds the two previous terms. This example is a linear recurrence with constant coefficients, because the coefficients of the linear function (1 and 1) are constants that do not depend on n. For these recurrences, one can express the general term of the sequence as a closed-form expression of n. As well, linear recurrences with polynomial coefficients depending on n are also important, because many common elementary and special functions have a Taylor series whose coefficients satisfy such a recurrence relation (see holonomic function). The concept of a recurrence relation can be extended to multidimensional arrays, that is, indexed families that are indexed by tuples of natural numbers. Contents [show] <h3>Definition [edit]</h3> A recurrence relation is an equation that expresses each element of a sequence as a function of the preceding ones. More precisely, in the case where only the immediately preceding element is involved, a recurrence relation has the form $u_n = \varphi(n, u_{n-1}) \quad \text{for } n > 0,$ where $\varphi : \mathbb{N} \times X \rightarrow X$ is a function, where X is a set to which the elements of a sequence must belong. For any u<sub>0</sub> ∈ X, this defines a unique sequence with u<sub>0</sub> as its first element, called the initial value.<sup>[1]</sup> It is easy to modify the definition for getting sequences starting from the term of index 1 or higher. This defines recurrence relation of first order. A recurrence relation of order k has the form $u_n = \varphi(n, u_{n-1}, u_{n-2}, \dots, u_{n-k}) \quad \text{for } n \geq k,$ where <math>\varphi : \mathbb{N} \times X^k \rightarrow X</math> is a function that involves k consecutive elements of the sequence. In this case, k initial values are needed for defining a sequence.

The approach can be applied to many types of problems, and recursion is one of the central ideas of computer science.<sup>[3]</sup> The power of recursion evidently lies in the possibility of defining an infinite set of objects by a finite statement. In the same manner, an infinite number of computations can be described by a finite recursive program, even if this program contains no explicit repetitions.

— NIKIAUS VITIS, Algorithms + Data Structures = Programs, 1976

Most computer programming languages support recursion by allowing a function to call itself from within its own code. Some functional programming languages (for instance, Clojure)<sup>[5]</sup> do not define any looping constructs but rely solely on recursion to repeatedly call code. It is proved in computability theory that these recursive-only languages are Turing complete; this means that they are as powerful (they can be used to solve the same problems) as imperative languages based on control structures such as while and for.

Repeatedly calling a function from within itself may cause the call stack to have a size equal to the sum of the input sizes of all involved calls. It follows that, for problems that can be solved easily by iteration, recursion is generally less efficient, and, for large problems, it is fundamental to use optimization techniques such as tail call optimization.<sup>[citation needed]</sup>

Recursive functions and algorithms  [edit]

A common algorithm design tactic is to divide a problem into sub-problems of the same type as the original, solve those sub-problems, and combine the results. This is often referred to as the divide-and-conquer method; when combined with a lookup table that stores the results of previously solved sub-problems (to avoid solving them repeatedly and incurring extra computation time), it can be referred to as dynamic programming or memoization.

Base case  [edit]

A recursive function definition has one or more base cases, meaning input(s) for which the function produces a result trivially (without recurring), and one or more recursive cases, meaning input(s) for which the program recurs (calls itself). For example, the factorial function can be defined recursively by the equations  $0! = 1$  and, for all  $n > 0$ ,  $n! = n(n - 1)!$ . Neither equation by itself constitutes a complete definition: the first is the base case, and the second is the recursive case. Because the base case breaks the chain of Tree created using the Logo programming language and relying heavily on recursion. Each branch can be seen as a smaller version of a tree.

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Dyslexia>

Archived: <https://archive.ph/FJwpp>

Dyslexia, also known as reading disorder, is a disorder characterized by reading below the expected level for ones age.<sup>[1][6]</sup> Different people are affected to different degrees.<sup>[3]</sup> Problems may include difficulties in spelling words, reading quickly, writing words, "sounding out" words in the head, pronouncing words when reading aloud and understanding what one reads.<sup>[3][7]</sup> Often these difficulties are first noticed at school.<sup>[2]</sup> When someone who previously could read loses their ability, it is known as alexia.<sup>[3]</sup> The difficulties are involuntary and people with this disorder have a normal desire to learn.<sup>[3]</sup> People with dyslexia have higher rates of attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), developmental language disorders, and difficulties with numbers.<sup>[2][8]</sup>

Dyslexia is believed to be caused by the interaction of genetic and environmental factors.<sup>[2]</sup> Some cases run in families.<sup>[3]</sup> Dyslexia that develops due to a traumatic brain injury, stroke, or dementia is called "acquired dyslexia".<sup>[1]</sup> The underlying mechanisms of dyslexia result from differences within the brain's language processing.<sup>[3]</sup> Dyslexia is diagnosed through a series of tests of memory, vision, spelling, and reading skills.<sup>[4]</sup> Dyslexia is separate from reading difficulties caused by hearing or vision problems or by insufficient teaching or opportunity to learn.<sup>[2]</sup>

Treatment involves adjusting teaching methods to meet the person's needs.<sup>[1]</sup> While not curing the underlying problem, it may decrease the degree or impact of symptoms.<sup>[9]</sup> Treatments targeting vision are not effective.<sup>[10]</sup> Dyslexia is the most common learning disability and occurs in all areas of the world.<sup>[11]</sup> It affects 3–7% of the population;<sup>[2][5]</sup> however, up to 20% of the general population may have some degree of symptoms.<sup>[12]</sup> While dyslexia is more often diagnosed in boys, this is partly explained by a self-fulfilling referral bias among teachers and professionals.<sup>[2][13]</sup> It has even been suggested that the condition affects men and women equally.<sup>[11]</sup> Some believe that dyslexia is best considered as a different way of learning, with both benefits and downsides.<sup>[14][15]</sup>

Classification

*Main article: Pure alexia

Dyslexia is divided into developmental and acquired forms.<sup>[16]</sup> Acquired dyslexia occurs subsequent to neurological insult, such as traumatic brain injury or stroke. People with acquired dyslexia exhibit some of the signs or symptoms of the developmental disorder, but requiring different assessment strategies and treatment approaches.<sup>[17]</sup> Pure alexia, also known as agnosic alexia or pure word blindness, is one form of alexia which makes up "the peripheral dyslexia" group.<sup>[18]</sup>

There are also two diagrams: one showing the process of signal transmission from a transducer to a transmitter and back to a receiver, and another showing a signal waveform and its spectral density estimation.

Signal processing is an electrical engineering subfield that focuses on analysing, modifying, and synthesizing signals such as sound, images, and scientific measurements.<sup>[1]</sup> Signal processing techniques can be used to improve transmission, storage efficiency and subjective quality and to also emphasize or detect components of interest in a measured signal.<sup>[2]</sup>

History [edit]

According to Alan V. Oppenheim and Ronald W. Schafer, the principles of signal processing can be found in the classical numerical analysis techniques of the 17th century. They further state that the digital refinement of these techniques can be found in the digital control systems of the 1940s and 1950s.<sup>[3]</sup>

In 1948, Claude Shannon wrote the influential paper "A Mathematical Theory of Communication" which was published in the Bell System Technical Journal.<sup>[4]</sup> The paper laid the groundwork for later development of information communication systems and the processing of signals for transmission.<sup>[5]</sup>

Signal processing matured and flourished in the 1960s and 1970s, and digital signal processing became widely used with specialized digital signal processor chips in the 1980s.<sup>[6]</sup>

Analog [edit]

Main article: Analog signal processing

Analog signal processing is for signals that have not been digitized, as in most 20th-century radio, telephone, radar, and television systems. This involves linear electronic circuits as well as nonlinear ones. The former are, for instance, passive filters, active filters, additive mixers, integrators, and delay lines. Nonlinear circuits include compondors, multipliers (frequency mixers, voltage-controlled amplifiers), voltage-controlled filters, voltage-controlled oscillators, and phase-locked loops.

Continuous time [edit]

Continuous-time signal processing is for signals that vary with the change of continuous domain (without considering some individual interrupted points).

The methods of signal processing include time domain, frequency domain, and complex frequency domain. This technology mainly discusses the modeling of linear time-invariant continuous system, integral of the system's zero-state response, setting up system function and the continuous time filtering of deterministic signals

Biography [edit]

Childhood [edit]

Clive Staples Lewis was born in Belfast in Ulster, Ireland (before partition), on 29 November 1898.<sup>[2]</sup> His father was Albert James Lewis (1863–1929), a solicitor whose father Richard Lewis had come to Ireland from Wales during the mid-19th century. Lewis's mother was Florence Augusta Lewis née Hamilton (1862–1908), known as Flora, the daughter of Thomas Hamilton, a Church of Ireland priest, and the great-granddaughter of both Bishop Hugh Hamilton and John Staples. Lewis had an elder brother, Warren Hamilton Lewis (known as "Warnie").<sup>[3]</sup> He was baptised on 29 January 1899 by his maternal grandfather in St Mark's Church, Dundela.<sup>[4]</sup>

The Problem of Pain is a 1940 book on the problem of evil by C. S. Lewis, in which Lewis argues that human pain, animal pain, and hell are not sufficient reasons to reject belief in a good and powerful God.

Lewis firmly establishes that his writing is "not primarily arguing the truth of Christianity but describing its origin - a task...necessary "if we are to put the problem of pain in its right setting". He begins by addressing the flaws in common arguments against the belief in a just, loving, and all-powerful God such as: "If God were good, He would make His creatures perfectly happy, and if He were almighty He would be able to do what he wished. But the creatures are not happy. Therefore God lacks either goodness, or power, or both."<sup>[1]</sup> Topics include human suffering and sinfulness, animal suffering, and the problem of hell, and seeks to reconcile these with an omnipotent force beyond ourselves.

Summary [edit]

Introduction [edit]

Lewis starts with his former atheistic stance and paints in broad strokes the "problem of pain." He asks how, if the world is so bad, did humans ever attribute it to a benevolent deity? He then describes three attributes that all developed religions have and a fourth attribute peculiar to Christianity and Buddhism.

- 1) An experience with the Numinous (a sort of awe, dread, and a general sense of experiencing something otherworldly "uncanny").
- 2) An acknowledgment of morality.
- 3) The Numinous as guardian of the morality.
- 4) Actual historical events.

Divine Omnipotence [edit]

Lewis states the problem of pain again in a simpler way: "If God were good, He would wish to make His creatures perfectly happy, and if God were almighty, He would be able to do what he wished. But the creatures are not happy. Therefore, God lacks either goodness, or power, or both." Lewis says that if the popular meanings attached to the words are the best or only possible then the problem is unanswerable. The possibility of answering it depends on understanding the words 'good,' 'almighty,' and 'happy' in a bigger sense. He discusses the nature of "impossible" with the conclusion that anything self-contradictory is not under the auspice of God's omnipotence because they would be non-entities;

I write to ask whether you would be willing to help us in our work of religious broadcasting ... The microphone is a limiting, and rather irritating, instrument, but the quality of thinking and depth of conviction which I find in your book ought sure to be shared with a great many other people.<sup>[6]</sup>

Welch suggested two potential subjects. Lewis responded with thanks and observed that modern literature, the first, did not suit him, choosing instead the Christian faith as Lewis understood it.<sup>[6]</sup>

In the preface to later editions, Lewis described his desire to avoid contested theological doctrine by focusing on core beliefs of the Christian Faith.<sup>[7]</sup> The succinct and pithy language employed by Lewis enabled him to impact broad audiences, while retaining intellectual substance for more studied readers.

Every Wednesday from 7:45 pm to 8 pm during August 1941, Lewis gave live talks entitled "Right or Wrong: A Clue to the Meaning of the Universe" which would become the first book in Mere Christianity. The first set of talks became very popular and flooded Lewis with responses from an adoring and irate public. This feedback led to Lewis going back on air to answer listener's questions.

The following January and February, Lewis gave the next set of talks on what would become "What Christians Believe". The talks remained popular and because of the success of the newly released The Screwtape Letters, Lewis' publisher was happy to publish the broadcast talks as books that year.

.. I believe it was in 'The Problem with Pain' that he addresses the need for separation from each other and our separation from God – as we are not Perfect enough to be in Full Communion.

(I wanted that in my DropBox Web Storage anyway and found the time-URLs a great addition since my last look, as well and any serious Abrahamic Theologian or Apologetic Practitioner must have covered these two books!)

And as I argue it is only through our Redeemer Jesus Christ Hosting us, Him a Mirror of The Son (in One Being, the Trinity – the Speaking Process of the Father), a that we are part of the Holy Incubation vessel that the Original Sin – or more specifically our parents' Adam & Eve's premature exposure to the Knowledge of Good and Evil that cause the Abortion of them from the Holy Womb (uterus of God) the Garden of Eden.

2. Beginning of Rationality for me - 4th Grade Teacher, India

My memory of Rationality was awakened by a 4th grade teacher who replaced an older teacher who I had become very attached to emotionally. She left abruptly – I recall her falling because of a friend in the class – Jimmy who was more hyperactive than me – suddenly darted away from her while she was leading on him while sitting on corner of desk trying to settle him .. she pretended she was not hurt, but I do not think I saw her again and a much younger woman took her place, a woman who was full of travel stories and share them.

At one point I got really upset because she was doing something different that we were used to, different than the old teacher who I cared for because she cared about me.

I said something like 'but that is not how Misses So-and-so did it!'

And she looked me in the eye and said firmly & clearly – 'I am not Miss So-and-so' and I realized I missed her greatly and started to cry. She managed me in a professional manner and after a day or two I settled into the idea that this new woman was the new teacher, and because she did not have the level of caring but a professional aspect – I started to Shape my thinking into more analytical direction.

One story about India she had – along with many pictures, and entire slide show – was explaining all the crowds and especially the poverty and begging children. She even said that it was not only birth defects but sometimes the parents would injure the children to make them a better beggar, a source of profit.

.. This concept was staggering and upsetting to many as truth is often to the innocent and naive, and she had to expand upon it because the concept was alien to us .. parents hurting their own children?! For money?

God Bless her!

I am sure that some readers now disagree that a 4th grader hear such things .. 9 or 10 years old, back then before hard-core Porn-exposure and the common vile viscous brain-F-ing cnt (women) teachers, the Abortive invisible Snakes in the Playground sending our children and our Future into Hell from the moment they get near children with False twisting of such true things – you can imagine today's version of that story – if not hidden because true to begin with - how it is always the fathers mutilating with the sad powerless mother crying and trying to stop him, evil men (and males) and you should be castrated ASAP, 'want some hormone blockers along with the ADD meds, jimmy?'

.. anyway - do not get me going.

I wrote 'God Bless her' because it was what she thought was true, and without a lot of moralizing and Fo-apologetics. I say she told us what she thought was true, but I later learned that although a birth defect child might become a beggar for a family, and for a very very poor family might allow a woman to adopt or manage them for a fee, the actual mutilation would be connected to such a woman who would be willing to look the other way if someone stole a child and mutilated them and then approached her, Wink-Wink, for a fee. The child must survive the cutting off of hand (Machete) or crushing of limb, and it is likely these days – unlike the 1960's – that actual medical people would do such, or be involved to better help survival with antibiotics and closing of the stump after the reported 'accident'.

Of course she did not address such things because to her perspective – on evaluation from afar – was not married (and likely a lesbian) without a concept of the normal healthy family and love of children. And perhaps the shock of such a different culture and peoples (average IQ of 73 in today's measure) added to a concept of 'Others' who would routinely mutilate their own children.

What a great teacher! Today I am still working out aspects of her teaching, and would like to grill her a bit on his, as well as talk to people from the culture to see if my Model of Humanity is correct as it applies to the situation .. I know that child-theft is a problem in India, and it was that information that allowed me to revisit those memories of that teacher and teachings.

.. organ harvesting is another reason. The West has been purposefully Blind to this wide-spread horror that happens in our hospitals and 'open borders' where people – mostly young men – are murdered and their organs harvested – and because they will sell the organs to the Elite no or few drugs are used, the patient is given a muscle blocker and literally systematically cut & pulled apart – organs removed in such a way as to keep them alive as long as possible with electrical stimulation (while attached) I think to excrete and temp. nullify independent uncoordinated neural activity and for torture to secrete as much brain hormone as possible which is extracted last and sold - to the often sadistic taunting medical personnel taking directly to them while they are in such Agony .. it is few hospitals that should not be repurposed or burned-to-the-ground (with many of the workers inside, Justly by Wrong) and the earth Salted and Exorcised.

Children also taken for sexual rape, torture, and then killed and brain-juice processed for that drug the evil-Zionist international Witch ruling families use to control those elites the really want to enslave .. someone like Jeffrey Epstein - like him, I would not want to accuse anyone of THIS without clear reasons – would 'introduce' them to this new drug .. someone like a Biden or other children or connected to Secular Power and the hooked-on happens immediately, even to someone for whom every other drug has been tried and become tired, and then and then they let them know at some point the evil connected to how it is collected. If they want they can get involved – of course – more black-mail, but accepting this and still using is a Satanic EnSlavement of a high degree.

Those who refuse are often left with poor substitutes like Crack or Meth to help them deal with the cravings and horror. As such – I feel the Crack use of a person in the media might be a sign of Virtue – unwilling to continue unlike some addicts of such Satanic Drug who face weird Neurological Issues such as sudden falling down, and temporary face paralysis – grimaces, and such .. a fully Captured Elite who has long been a Puppet of Satan's minions.

And of course there are children stolen for Satanic Rituals, and many others.

Welcome to Rationality at this Jacob's Level! .. we must stop pretending and being actively ignorant and think that any action we do based on the lies and our psychological twisting provided to us since crib would do anything but create more of the evil the evil-Zionist anti-Logos international Witch-Matriarchy rules want.

Like trying to end fatherlessness by blaming all the father and men. I suggest an organized fact-sheet with real statistics (if such would ever be funded to reliably report) which outlines – in this case – the clear evidence otherwise, and when a person is corrected and handed the data to review and told they are 'on notice' over that issue, Recorded in a #PublicDataBase – that continuing to push the lie would result in not only an update-Record but legal charges resulting in – at least – Public #TaseredTillPissingAndScreaming for them on first offense, after that include punishment for all the older women and other Formers responsible for such a #FalseWitness'ng Cnt.

.. I as 'at least' because if children or unaware people were lied to (children going to be a little deeper in self-hate or fear) that MORE punishment – perhaps a month of Saturday #TaseredTillPissingAndScreaming.

But since I can not imagine in this evil-Zionist Vagina-god Satan ruled Horror reality where something even as reasonable as a world-wide #PublicDataBase be allowed – never mind actively supported and funded – that I should state that physical violence to such a person as a form a Loving Correction seems reasonably justified given the conditions of a warning and information provided – and a repeater .. well, such a Curse on life, truth, and our children is best Gone from power over others, ideally in a way that allows them to Repent and return.

The 'professional' woman I talked to on Church Street came to mind. A Witch who while waiting for some kind of public protest or such stood next to me and started a conversation – and related to the protest .. I forget what it was – Violence Against Women or some Witch-Matriarchy evil-directed misdirection, lies, and obfuscation pretending to be virtuous .. look into the real statistics on Domestic Violence (women start the physical violence much more often) and violence against men -including prison Rape make the tiny bit against women seem what it is, a Satanic Tool and method male-hate and Western Society destruction and Evil; disOrder, UnTruth, inJustice.

So at one point she pushed that abandoning fathers was the reason for fatherlessness, and I knowing the recent statistics corrected her - 80+ percent #NoFaultDivorce initiated by women, over half reported because she 'was not happy', the State gives the children to her because – supposedly but Red-Herring-ly believed to because the State makes more money from Federal Matching Law, but it would accrue anyway because the destruction of men and fathers has been an ongoing project by the Western Society evil-Zionist Satanic international Witch-Matriarchy ruling families from before the French Revolution, Civil War.

So knowing the basic facts the Witch could barely contain her anger. I was very matter-of-fact and I could see she hated me for my lack of ignorance and my broken Satanic Feminist evil-Programming. Maybe she could not talk because I recall she nodded and walked away into the crowd. A real live Witch, likely worked in 'family services' as one of the higher-ups driving those other Witches into destroying more families, hyper-empower women & mothers into delusional-psycho Curses on us all.

Well, that was a little bit of an unplanned Tangent. ..

3. Ghola *Duncan Idaho and Psychic Death

This might seem obscure to many, but I made the connection a while ago, along with the growing suspicion – which I have recently written about – that

Sci-Fi literature contains huge amount of Multiverse 'spill-over' – likely because the authors are imaginative and very open, and actively seeking ideas that are not limited by our generally narrowed perspectives of reality, and likely many other good reasons.

Melange is also necessary for space navigation, which requires a kind of multidimensional awareness and foresight that only the drug provides. As melange can only be produced on Arrakis, control of the planet is a coveted and dangerous undertaking. Archived: <https://archive.ph/qLJMb>

A ghola is a fictional creature in the Dune universe created by Frank Herbert. Similar to clones, they are "manufactured" human duplicates grown in an axlotl tank from cells collected from a deceased subject. A true gholas is initially shown to be the resurrection of a corpse through regrowth of damaged tissues, while later gholas in the series are more accurately described as clones—grown from genetic material extracted from a few cells (e.g. a small scraping of skin taken moments before death). Through specific stresses, gholas can be made to recall the memories of the original, including their moment of death. In Herbert's Dune series, the technological process is developed and initially monopolized by the Tleilaxu;<sup>[7][13]</sup> in later novels the process is also used by the Bene Gesserit.<sup>[12]</sup>

The first gholas featured in the series—Hayt in 1969's Dune Messiah—is a resurrection of the corpse of Duncan Idaho.<sup>[14]</sup> Later gholas are grown from a few cells, as in the case of subsequent Idaho gholas provided to Leto II, as described in God Emperor of Dune (1981).<sup>[8]</sup> The Tleilaxu can control their creations by forcing them into a hypnotic state with some predefined sound (often a specific humming or whistling noise) that has been pre-conditioned into each gholas.<sup>[9][c][d]</sup>

Csilla Csori analyzes the concept of recording and restoring memories in the essay "Memory (and the Tleilaxu) Makes the Man" in The Science of Dune (2008).<sup>[15]</sup>

The original series [edit]

Before the events of Dune: Messiah, gholas are merely physical copies without the memories of their original incarnations. The gholas Hayt is programmed by the Tleilaxu to kill Emperor Paul Atrides under post-hypnotic suggestion. The attempt fails but, as hoped by the Tleilaxu, the stress of attempting to kill someone who was deeply loved in the gholas' previous life breaks the mental barrier between the gholas' consciousness and the life memories of the original. Hayt recovers the full memories of the original Duncan Idaho. The Tleilaxu are now able to offer Paul a similar gholas "resurrection" of his deceased beloved Chani to gain leverage over him, but he refuses.<sup>[7]</sup>

In God Emperor of Dune, over Leto II's 3,500-year reign he has, as constant companions, a series of Duncan gholas with restored memories of the original Idaho but not the memories of the previous gholas. They are perfectly reconstructed incarnations made from a few cells, created as needed in the time span of one to two years. In this novel, one of the Duncans recalls how, as a blank gholas, he was tasked to kill a Face Dancer duplicate of Leto's father and Duncan's friend, Paul, and the psychological stress awakened his memories.<sup>[8]</sup> Fifteen hundred years later in Heretics of Dune (1984), Leto is dead and the Bene Gesserit are the consumers of Duncan gholas. The current Idaho gholas recovers the memories of the original like his predecessors; however, the later attempt by the Honored Matre Murbella to sexually imprint him results in his recovery of the memories of all his gholas incarnations.<sup>[11]</sup> It is later determined that the Tleilaxu had mixed the cells from multiple Idaho gholas to make this one—however recovery of genetic material from every incarnation would have been impossible for the Tleilaxu, indicating the development of some form of prescient or metaphysical awareness.<sup>[12]</sup>

Though intense psychological trauma is the key to unlocking the memories of a gholas, the actual situation contrived to accomplish this is specific to each individual. When military genius Miles Teg is killed in Heretics of Dune, a gholas of him is born in Chapterhouse: Dune (1985) on orders from Teg's own daughter, Bene Gesserit leader Darwi Odrade.<sup>[16]</sup> His former memories are unlocked using sexual imprinting.<sup>[12]</sup>

The discovery of how to reawaken a gholas has tremendous consequences for the Tleilaxu Masters themselves; they subsequently use the technology of axlotl tanks and memory recovery to grant themselves effective immortality. Every Master is "recreated" upon his death with recovered memories, accumulating many generations of knowledge and experience and permitting planning on a timespan of millennia.<sup>[11]</sup>

to a separate sense of self<sup>[web 1]</sup> and self-centeredness.<sup>[13]</sup> This conception is an influential part of Eckhart Tolle's teachings, where Ego is presented as an accumulation of thoughts and emotions, continuously identified with, which creates the idea and feeling of being a separate entity from one's self, and only by disidentifying one's consciousness from it can one truly be free from suffering.<sup>[14]</sup>

Definitions [edit]

Ego death and the related term "ego loss" have been defined in the context of mysticism by the religious studies scholar Daniel Merkur as "an imageless experience in which there is no sense of personal identity. It is the experience that remains possible in a state of extremely deep trance when the ego-functions of reality-testing, sense-perception, memory, reason, fantasy and self-representation are repressed [...] Muslim Sufis call it fana ('annihilation').<sup>[note 2]</sup> and medieval Jewish kabbalists termed it 'the kiss of death'.<sup>[15]</sup>

Carter Phipps equates enlightenment and ego death, which he defines as "the renunciation, rejection and, ultimately, the death of the need to hold on to a separate, self-centered existence".<sup>[16]</sup><sup>[note 3]</sup>

In Jungian psychology, Ventegodt and Merrick define ego death as "a fundamental transformation of the psyche". Such a shift in personality has been labeled an "ego death" in Buddhism, or a psychic death by Jung.<sup>[18]</sup>

In comparative mythology, ego death is the second phase of Joseph Campbell's description of the Hero's Journey.<sup>[4]</sup><sup>[5]</sup><sup>[8]</sup><sup>[9]</sup> which includes a phase of separation, transition, and incorporation.<sup>[6]</sup> The second phase is a phase of self-surrender and ego-death, after which the hero returns to enrich the world with their discoveries.<sup>[4]</sup><sup>[5]</sup><sup>[9]</sup><sup>[3]</sup>

In esoteric culture, Larry McMane and Alrod (1964) define ego death, or ego loss as they call it, as part of the (symbolic) experience of death in which the old ego must die

“.. the Ego-Death caused by that Revelation Opened my Mind to the Multiverses and other Paths, Holy and otherwise. Much has been written here (and those lost in Twitter – Mercy, Jesus!) about this.

I've been trying to Stimulate you in such, and with God's Guidance, and His Grace, you will See and start to Understand, start back to the Path God has created for us.”

.. And in the Dune Series it was only through contrived Suffering and sudden intense psychological Pain that the Ghola is Wakened – which is what Opened-up the Multiverse to me, and Communication with the Lion- now that I had References and nearly overwhelmed with Eternity before me .. it gives a Perspective that makes you pause and consider ..

.. consider many things. God Knows I at first planned my own complete destruction, and likely would have started on that path if I did not realize that I could only Succeed if I somehow erased Me from God's Memory, and with it I remembered the infinite Spawning possible with the simple Holy Fork() Call, .. The computer Programming Fork() Call, ..

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Fork\_\(system\_call\))

Archived: <https://archive.ph/jThGu>

The screenshot shows the Wikipedia article for "Fork (system call)". The sidebar on the left contains various navigation options such as "Random article", "About Wikipedia", "Contact us", "Donate", "Contribute", "Help", "Learn to edit", "Community portal", "Recent changes", "Upload file", "Tools", "What links here", "Related changes", "Special pages", "Permanent link", "Page information", "Cite this page", "Wikidata item", "Print/export", "Download as PDF", "Printable version", and "Languages". The main content area starts with an introduction: "In computing, particularly in the context of the Unix operating system and its workalikes, fork is an operation whereby a process creates a copy of itself. It is an interface which is required for compliance with the POSIX and Single UNIX Specification standards. It is usually implemented as a C Standard Library (libc) wrapper to the fork, clone, or other system calls of the kernel. Fork is the primary method of process creation on Unix-like operating systems." Below this is a "Contents" section with a "show" button. The "Overview" section explains that in multitasking operating systems, processes need a way to create new processes, and fork is typically the only way of doing so in Unix-like systems. It describes how a process forks to create a copy of itself, called the "child process", which then calls the exec system call to overlay itself with the other program. The "History" section mentions that the fork concept appeared in Melvin Conway's 1962 paper "A Multiprocessor System Design" and was later implemented by L. Peter Deutsch in the GENIE time-sharing system. The "Communication" section states that the child process starts off with a copy of its parent's file descriptors and that the parent process will often create one or several pipes, which are then closed by the child process.

DropBox: <https://www.dropbox.com/s/4nm9puwfd81a46h/fork%20%28system%20call%29%20-%20Wikipedia.pdf>

.. which I remembered as a young man in a much more Holy path being told by an older man how 'a copy' of the universe – and he (He) then waved his hand and I Saw two then four universes created. The point of the conversation was to get across the infinite versions already existing with more being simply created all the time, and from any one perspective a person can not access them all (the many separate Multiverse Tree idea – you in one may access all that particular Tree, but only through the Originator of the many Multiverses they created can you access others – and only those that One created).

He never mentioned Simulation or Fork() or even Multiverse, never mind Beowulf Cluster, Quantum Minds, .. – that was for me to figure out someday.

(In the Holy they do not Cripple you with too much help. After all, it is assured that some later version of You will be Hosting them at someplace and you only want those with the hard-won Holy Merit such a position.)

And then When I went before God I had to Lock my Mind for I would Sin – I suddenly saw every #10Commandment as a way to Attack God - at my Frustration of not being ever able to be Removed – my Infinite Suffering was all I could think about and getting away from it, and it was only after a Asked Permission to think such that I could fully address Him.

Anyway .. needless to say I have 'come around' to His Love and Infinite Blessings, after all – I have no choice and the only Path that is Sane and minimized Suffering to to Transform toward Holiness and stop being a Curse on myself and God. Praise God.

Vigano was very busy in the past week, releasing several letters far too spicy for YouTube. I have them synthesized for one message here.

How Democracy Dies

Shadow polities explained

KK Knowland Knows

Often the official possessors of power aren't those who really exercise it. That's why you need to understand shadow polities.

There are five main kinds:

1. Plutocracy is when the wealthy seek to subvert a constitution that doesn't give them the power they desire. Since 'all things obey money' (Eccl. 10:19), all human societies must always be on guard against this. Lobbying requires money so can undermine democracy.
2. Kritocracy is when judges legislate while pretending to merely interpret law. This happens when the outlook of the intellectual elite deviates too far from that of the masses who selected them. Law is not downstream of culture.
3. Bureaucracy is when civil servants get unofficial power. Small rules regarding transactions become too burdensome. As Churchill put it, they are 'no longer servants and no longer civil'.
4. Pornocracy — literally, 'rule by harlots' — is when the exercise of power is corrupted by lust. Like plutocracy, it is a constant danger. Plato said the tyrant is a man most of all ruled by lust, and the city is the soul of the ruler writ large.

5. Theocracy is when men are ruled by those who possess the means of mass communication. Frequent repetition causes men to believe whatever these rulers want them to. No matter how absurd.

- Apply for a lump sum to retire from farming

Farmers in England who wish to leave the industry can now apply for the new Lump Sum Exit Scheme which will provide a payment so they can exit the sector in a managed way. In return, farmers will be expected to either rent or sell their land or surrender their tenancy in order to create opportunities for new entrants and farmers wishing to expand their businesses.

The Scheme, which opens for applications today until 30 September 2022, follows a public consultation and builds on evidence that some farmers would like to retire or leave the industry but have found it difficult to do so for financial reasons.

The exit payment provided to eligible applicants will be based on the average payment received to the farmer for 1991 to 2021 Basic Payment (BPS) plus 25%. This reference figure will be capped at £42,500 and multiplied by 2.35 to calculate the lump sum, meaning that farmers could

We are making an unequivocal apology to victims and survivors of Child Sexual Exploitation in Telford for past failings by the force.

This evening the Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Exploitation in Telford (IITCSE) is published. The Inquiry, which was commissioned by Telford and Wrekin Council in April 2018, found that there were significant failings by public services, including West Mercia Police, in the handling of child sexual exploitation in the borough dating back to the mid-90s.

Speaking on behalf of West Mercia Police, Assistant Chief Constable Richard Cooper, said: "I would like to say sorry.

The Schopenhauer Trolley Problem

According to Arthur Schopenhauer's antinatalist view, the sum of all human experience is overwhelmingly negative. Therefore, pulling the lever would only take one person out of this dreaded existence and cause the 5 to continue living with horrible pain associated with life. Assuming this pessimistic philosophical view, would the utilitarian thing be, for the first time, to not pull the lever?

The music band 'Rage against the Machine' has been in the news for both requiring the evil-Poison injections for going to their concerts AND recently taking a stand of 'my body my choice' pro-baby-murder – but Evil functions and exists only when Rationality and Truth have been warped to Insanity.

I do think the little music shown here has talent, but the Mash-up is clearly better than the original song by itself., ..

This is so I have an excuse to add it to DropBox, and is interesting and I have not linked to it recently – such a great Series, so well written – a great Sci-Fi retelling of the Jews Exodus from Bondage in Egypt and 40 years wondering the Desert, with an interesting swap of Religious beliefs.

And a lot of ethical AI-Robot Philosophical issues touched on!

But this is only a great montage of a number of battles from the Series to music – a Mash-up in the old standard form I usually post., ..
