In this morning's prayers and meditations I spent a lot of time in reflection on what I wrote yesterday – if you missed it you should go and read it – it touches on a wide – very wide number of points that are important for us and our Holy Health. See the PostScript below for the URLs of yesterday's post.

I realized after I went outside to pray and people-car watch that I had forgotten to include the NEAT paper I discussed – so I cut my time very short outside and came in and added it. I also 'Updated' the PDF versions of my posts in my Dropbox area and changed the URLs to reflect them .. I forgot to update the Archived version of SubStack which I might do later.

.. okay – I did it. It is the most readable version and hopefully exists even places in the Multiverse does not have SubStack, for Post, 'Index Number 1648: ', September 12th, 2022, Monday Morning,

Abstract

An important question in neuroevolution is how to gain an advantage from evolving neural network topologies along with weights. We present a method, NeuroEvolution of Augmenting Topologies (NEAT) that outperforms the best fixed-topology method on a challenging benchmark reinforcement learning task. We claim that the increased efficiency is due to (1) employing a principled method of crossover of different topologies, (2) protecting structural innovation using speciation, and (3) incrementally growing from minimal structure. We test this claim through a series of ablation studies that demonstrate that each component is necessary to the system as a whole and to each other. What results is significantly faster learning. NEAT is also an important contribution to GAs because it shows how it is possible for evolution to both optimize and complexify solutions simultaneously, offering the possibility of evolving increasingly complex solutions over generations, and strengthening the analogy with biological evolution.

It later acquired the retronym of Star Trek: The Original Series (TOS) to distinguish the show within the media franchise that it began.^[2] The show is set in the Milky Way galaxy, circa 2266–2269. The ship and crew are led by Captain James T. Kirk (William Shatner), First Officer and Science Officer Spock (Leonard Nimoy), and Chief Medical Officer Leonard H. "Bones" McCoy (DeForest Kelley). Shatner's voice-over introduction during each episode's opening credits stated the starship's purpose: Space: the final frontier. These are the voyages of the starship Enterprise. Its five-year mission: to explore strange new worlds, to seek out new life and new civilizations, to boldly go where no man has gone before. Norway Productions and Desilu Productions produced the series from September 1966 to December 1967. Paramount Television produced the show from January 1968 to June 1969. Star Trek aired on NBC from September 8, 1966, to June 3, 1969.^[3] It was first broadcast on September 6, 1966, on Canada's CTV network.^[4] Star Trek's Nielsen ratings while on NBC were low, and the network cancelled it after three seasons and 79 episodes. Several years later, the series became a hit in broadcast syndication, remaining so throughout the 1970s, achieving cult classic status and a developing influence on popular culture. Star Trek eventually spawned a franchise, consisting of 11 television series, 13 feature films, and numerous books, games, and toys, and is now widely considered one of the most popular and influential television series of all time.^[5] Contents [show] Creation [edit] On March 11, 1964, Gene Roddenberry, a long-time fan of science fiction, drafted a short treatment for a science-fiction television series that he called Star Trek.^[6] This was to be set on board a large interstellar spaceship named S.S. Yorktown in the 23rd century.^{[7][8]} bearing a crew dedicated to exploring the Milky Way galaxy. Roddenberry noted a number of influences on his idea, some of which includes A. E. van Vogt's tales of the spaceship Space Beagle, Eric Frank Russell's Marathon series of stories, and the film Forbidden Planet (1956). Some have also drawn parallels with the television series Rocky Jones, Space Ranger (1954), a space opera that included many of the elements integral to Star Trek—the organization, crew relationships, missions, part of the bridge layout, and some technology.^{[9][24]} Roddenberry also drew heavily from C. The franchise has expanded into various films, television series, video games, novels, and comic books. With an estimated $10.6 billion in revenue, it is one of the most recognizable and highest-grossing media franchises of all time.^{[1][2][3]} The franchise began with Star Trek: The Original Series, which debuted in the US on September 8, 1966 and aired for three seasons on NBC. It was first broadcast on September 6, 1966 on Canada's CTV network.^[4] It followed the voyages of the starship USS Enterprise, a space exploration vessel built by the United Federation of Planets in the 23rd century, on a mission "to explore strange new worlds, to seek out new life and new civilizations, to boldly go where no man has gone before". In creating Star Trek, Roddenberry was inspired by C. S. Forester's Horatio Hornblower series of novels, Jonathan Swift's 1726 novel Gulliver's Travels, the 1956 film Forbidden Planet, and television westerns such as Wagon Train. The Star Trek canon includes the Original Series, nine spin-off television series, and a film franchise; further adaptations also exist in several media. After the conclusion of the Original Series, the adventures of its characters continued in the 22-episode Star Trek: The Animated Series and six feature films. A television revival beginning in the 1980s saw three sequel series and a prequel: Star Trek: The Next Generation, following the crew of a new starship Enterprise a century after the original series; Star Trek: Deep Space Nine and Star Trek: Voyager, set in the same era as the Next Generation; and Enterprise, set before the original series in the early days of human interstellar travel. The adventures of the Next Generation crew continued in four additional feature films. In 2009, the film franchise underwent a reboot, creating an alternate continuity known as the Kelvin timeline; three films have been set in this continuity. The newest Star Trek television revival, beginning in 2017, includes the series Star Trek: Discovery, Picard, Short Treks, Lower Decks, Prodigy, and Strange New Worlds, streaming exclusively on digital platforms. Star Trek has been a cult phenomenon for decades.^[5] Fans of the franchise are called "Trekkies" or "Trekkers". The franchise spans a wide range of spin-offs including games, figurines, novels, toys, and comics. From 1998 to 2008, there was a Star Trek-themed attraction in Las Vegas. At least two museum exhibits of props travel the world. The constructed language Klingon was created for the franchise. Several Star Trek parodies have been made, and viewers have produced several fan productions. Star Trek is noted for its cultural influence beyond works of science fiction.^[6] The franchise is also noted for its progressive civil-rights stances.^[7] The Original Series included one of the first interracial casts on US television.	Star Trek Logo as it appears in The Original Series Created by Gene Roddenberry Original work Star Trek: The Original Series Owner Paramount Print publications Book(s) <ul style="list-style-type: none">List of fictional worksList of reference booksList of technical manuals Novel(s) List of novels Comics List of comics Magazine(s) <ul style="list-style-type: none">Star Trek Magazine^[8] (1995–present)Star Trek: The Magazine (1999–2003) Films and television Film(s) The Original Series <ul style="list-style-type: none">The Motion Picture (1979)II: The Wrath of Khan (1982)III: The Search for Spock (1984)IV: The Voyage Home (1986)V: The Final Frontier (1989)VI: The Undiscovered Country (1991) The Next Generation <ul style="list-style-type: none">Generations (1994)First Contact (1996)Insurrection (1998)

The reason I bring it up that way before I knew anything about the Catholic Church or the Trinity I unknowingly brought it into Being within myself – that in my imagination I would pretend to my self I was Captain Kirk or at least in his place, and if so – would I do anything differently? - crossed my mind.

The 'away team' he would take to the new planets was always him, Spock (hyper-rational humanoid science focused alien - otherwise not much different to regular humans), and Doctor McCoy – the ship's doctor.

I decided the ship's Doctor was .. mostly a negative element, and the Spock to 'pinch-hit' for what medical aspects were needed when needed, and so .. who would I include instead, and so I thought about the differences – and decided them maximum differences would be most advantageous and that a 'Spiritual' person would be good – and not knowing of any characters in any Abrahamic religions or such, I locked-onto the main character in a different series I liked .. Kung Fu, who was a Monk who was 'on the run' from China having killed a prince of some such in anger over having his mentor suddenly killed .. I think he was seeking his family in America – mother was a Westerner if I remember.

Here is what I wrote about it in a Post 18 February, 2017 (before I started to Index them), ..

'So, The three fictional characters from television I modeled myself after as an older boy was Star Trek's Kirk, Spock, and Kung Fu's Kwai Chang Caine, Which are becoming the Lion, the Holy Ghost, and the Son.

PS. Looks like YouTube removed my Channel's Discussion page, no note about it – just gone.
I was including my Posts there for those who do not have Accounts in Facebook, or Minds. (The Gab does not need an account – I believe – but they limited to 3000 characters, so mostly used as a sample to direct towards the others.)

Of course the YouTube Discussion page was limited in many ways, and like the '666' UPS package problem, it is worth the cost of the lost material to indicate the Amazon, UPS, and evil-Zionist Witch corpDragon coordination, and clearly this Banning by YouTube only shows that the evil-Zionist international Witch family rulers do not want anyone to read and think about those points and topics and see the examples and data linked too – same thing happen with Twitter, I started to interlink the arguments and references so to overcome the length limit and by injecting any on of the relevant 'argument cloud' would link those readers into a complete well argued and Cited argument.

So, provided the powerful and connected evil-Zionist are willing to let you look at this post – unlike they are preventing you from those two and many many many others .. But for the uninspiring remaining 'cat video' posts – you can watch all you want.

What was Yesterday's (or this one) post worth to you?

I hope something.

I Hope these help shape you towards God - Repenting, and Loving self and God and Neighbors [more.]

And that is dangerous to so many many evil powerful .. what else have they taken from us – besides our unborn?

I think I will just provide what I have so far .. I am still back-logged on some videos – yesterday's one on race, for example. I watches more but it is still Dancing .. I might jump around deeper and see if it goes anywhere at some point .. the defining the 'Space' seems okay, but everyone is 'too careful' to get to any meat – it seems. Demon's with mothers voice screeching 'be careful – that might be racist sounding!' perhaps.

Is something like that going all the entire time in their heads – I wonder.

Deal with evil-Zionists in middle-east in Saudis and israel for Petrodollar – Nixon as evil-Zionist Agent of Usury-Debt enSlavement of us and the world – with evil-Zionist international Witch-Matriarchal ruling family, the corpDragon Federal Reserve Corporation and The Private City of London.
